

The 2007 Salsorro- The Place to Be

From its early days, salsa was a very popular dance that combined styles and rhythms from North America, Latin America, the Caribbean and had a strong influence from Africa. As times changed, so did salsa and today it is more flirtatious and more sensual, which made this dance style even more appealing to the public. Salsa left its home country and traveled the world, being popular in countries like the United Kingdom, Switzerland and Germany. Because of its growing popularity, salsa festivals started to be held all over the world. These festivals soon turned into salsa congresses, due to the increasing number of participants and today we can even talk about world salsa congresses. However, there are some salsa congresses that stand out from the others. Salsorro is one of them. This name was adopted in the year 2002 and it refers to a salsa congress in northern Spain, more exactly in Galicia. It started out as an anniversary festival of a well known website that celebrates salsa music, and soon turned into one of the most prestigious salsa congresses in Europe. There is not a salsa lover who does not know that the place to be at in November is Galicia, Spain. Due to its perfect organization right from the beginning, to its long lists of events celebrating salsa and more importantly due to the presence of important salsa dancers, Salsorro is now one of the must be at places for all salsa passionate. Famous names as Adolfo and Melissa from New York, Adrian and Anita from Barcelona, Johnny Vasquez from Los Angeles or Maykel Fonts from Cuba and many other famous and talented dancers have always fascinated the crowds and showed all those amateurs out there what salsa is all about. When you see Junior and Emily or Nuno and Vanda lose themselves in the dance, you can only be fascinated and amazed of the depth of this dance and your only thought would probably be: I wish I could salsa like they do. Another magnificent appearance that leaves you loving salsa even more is the dance company Tropical Gem. Since the year 2001, when it first appeared on the international salsa stage, this Italian company has gained everybodys heart through their innovative and brilliant dance moves. Tropical Gem always came up with new elements and routines, succeeding in amazing every time and thus in less than seven years becoming one of the greatest salsa dance companies in the world. Tropical Gem as well makes all Salsorro participants say they wish they could salsa. Salsorro, one of the most important salsa congresses in Europe, lasts three days. Three days of dance and music, of competitions and parties, of workshops and live bands that just leave you wanting more. There is not a woman out there who, after such an event, is not fascinated by the stunning dance moves, salsa dresses and salsa shoes and no man left not wanting to hold his partner and move her around just like a salsa dancer does. The whole beauty of this dance makes the three days feel just like an hour. Even on screen, salsa does not lose its appeal and if you buy a salsa DVD you will get the same thrill and desire of dancing as if you were there yourself. Salsa can not be described in words, for there are not enough to picture all that this dance is and the atmosphere around it. Salsa congresses capture only pieces of this dance style and the emotions you have dancing to this incredible beat. Salsorro is considered to be one of the top salsa congresses in Europe just because it can represent the salsa state of mind and spirit.
